Situation

Scattered. It is situated in La Galga, in Puntallana, near Cubo de La Galga, a natural spot, part of Biosphere Reserve. Ideal for forest lovers..

This is a typical two-storey house in the picturesque village of La Galga, inside the Protected Natural Area Cubo de La Galga belonging to the Biosphere Reserve El Canal y Los Tiles. No matter how much one could say about this favoured land, we could never find enough words to describe it. The house is surrounded by a thick forest of different trees and bushes botanicly called Laurisilva. This type of forest once covered the entire Mediterranean basin. Now, this is one of its last holdouts in the whole world. Rambling is a must in the impressive area of La Galga.
